Patients at Northwest Community Hospital on Thanksgiving Day were served their special holiday dinner by the dietary department at the hospital. The idea was to provide variety by all patients and will be standard holiday procedure from now on. Two part-time dietary helpers and housekeeper, Mrs. Catherine J. Smith, assisted in the service. Patients at Arlington High School, the principal center they made for serving patients were on Thanksgiving Day.

A New Suit For Santa

When Santa Claus makes an early visit to the children of Cleveland Center for the Dec. 12 party sponsored by the Rolling Meadows Junior Women's Club, he will be wearing a bright red suit.

The suit is an anonymous gift from a generous woman who had heard that Santa's suit needed some repair. The woman called Mrs. Ronald Hender, home ed. garden chairman of the Rolling Meadows Junior, to tell her she had been reading about the gift packages their members were sending each month to Rolling Meadows boys stationed in Vietnam and thought they were terrific.

The caller said she had lost a pair of mittens and thought it was time someone did something for the juniors.

On the morning of Dec. 2 a package was delivered to Santa's home. It contained a new and fine suit for Santa.

The entire club is grateful to their anonymous Santa Claus with her sincere Christmas gift.

Glamor for Rent

One of the quickest ways to make your friends quietly turn green with envy is to throw a holiday party wearing a costume. You can rent a costume for as little as $2.00 a week.

THREE AREA firms, Suno & Suno, Dress Formal Wear and United Rent-A-Go offer a selection of rental fashions in a variety of styles and colors. All have color catalogs available from which you may select your fashions and it is generally required from 3 to 5 days time to arrive.

At Suno's two shops in Golf Mill and Randhurst, costumes have proven to be a winner for the renter. Accordingly, they offer coats, suits and caplets in Autumn Hues, Blues, Carolee Sapphires, Norwegian Blue, Natural Pearl and Ranch White. Some are given away by Suno-agent for their holiday dresses and by brides for their wedding parties.

It is possible to reserve a suit by telephone but as the manager at United Rent-A-Go's Arlington Heights store explained, it is wiser for the customer to come in and make the selection. Then, should there be any question about the length of a skirt or in coloring, this can be investigated. In addition to handling most of the popular styles and shades already mentioned, United Rent-A-Go offers a clutch bag and several wigs for rent.

ONE of the widest for selections is offered by the Dressing Fur Co., Chicago, who pioneered the rental fur business here shortly after its introduction in New York City and Hollywood.

District 214 Will Consider Rolling Meadows Building

By Richard Cribbs

Prospect Heights Library Board Eyes Park Property

Members of the Prospect Heights Library Board last night that they are interested in purchasing land for a library.

Mr. Margaret Lusk, said that the library board for the first time was authorized to put money into a building fund, and surveys indicate the library needs a building of 6,000 square feet.

The board at present runs its space the said, and added "there are not many places around, near a shopping center, where there is land available."

THE LAND involved is two 100-by-300-foot lots the park district owns east of Eisenhower Rd. between Olive and Madison.

In other business, Prospect Chairman Lewis Wolfenbarger read a copy of a contract signed by George Williams, setting forth the terms of Williams' contract to maintain ice on the district's hockey rink and general skating area.

Ron Greenberg, district recreation director, said that the general skating area and hockey rink base could not be made level in a few rated spots because of the severe weather.

However, he noted that deep runs had filled with water and were frozen, and only a few high spots remained to be leveled with packs.

IT IS expected that during the coming weeks a good skating lane gradually will be built up on the ice-covered surface prepared for skating.

It was agreed by the board that a skating guard should be hired to maintain order. It was further agreed that some form of temporary lighting would be limited to avoid night skating at the hockey rink.

A meeting of the board's planning committee was convened for Thursday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Park District's office, 98 N. Elm Street, Dr. Prospect Heights.

Recreation director Ron Greenberg, told the park board Monday night that registrations are progressing well for the winter recreation program, with openings still available in some classes.

HE SAID classes for children that still have openings are seventh and eighth grade basketball for boys, and ice skating instruction for boys and girls, in beginner, intermediate, and advanced figure classes.

Adult classes that still have openings, he said, are self-defense, women's gymnastics, skating and water color.

Registrations are accepted at the park district office, 98 N. Elm Street, Dr. Prospect Heights.

Rep. Edward H. Gilbert suggested that the board take steps immediately to engage architects to begin the work of planning the new school. Board members were given a list of qualified architects in the Chicago area. At a meeting next Monday evening the board will decide how many architects will be interviewed for the Rolling Meadows assignment.

THE DISTRICT 214 Board of Education had received and acknowledged the report of its 1968 Citizens Committee. After four months of study, the committee had recommended the building of a new high school in Rolling Meadows, large enough to serve 3,000 students. The committee also recommended

Rumsfeld in Running For Key GOP Office

By Richard Cribbs

U. S. Rep. Ronald Rumsfeld (R-Ill.) announced Monday that he is a candidate for chairman of the powerful Republican Research and Planning Committee.

Rumsfeld made the announcement in a telegram to each of the 102 Republican members of the House of Representatives.

The position, one of the two GOP leadership positions open in the House, was vacated last September by Charles Goodell of New York, who was appointed senator from that state to take the place of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The House Republican caucus met Jan. 8 for their organization meeting during which all of the nine leadership positions will be filled. Seven of the previous committee chairmen again are eligible and probably will be re-named to their position as a matter of formality. In addition to the position sought by Rumsfeld, there is an opening for chairman of the Conference Committee following the appointment of its chairman, Rep. Melvin Laird, to a position in the defense department.

IN BOTH THE 96th and 95th Congresses, the nine Republican committee chairmen devoted most of their efforts to developing alternatives to programs introduced by the executive branch of the government. Now that Richard Nixon is in President, their work will take on more of a coordination effort between the two branches of the government.

Create 'Four-Sided Zoning Triangle'

How to make a "four-sided triangle" was solved by the Arlington Heights Zoning Board of Appeals last night.

The problem stemmed from a petition before the board seeking a variance in zoning regulations regarding a single-family dwelling. The proposed house was to be built on a "triangular" lot.

Zoning regulations define front yards and minimum requirements in terms of four sides on a lot. The lot in question has two straight sides of the pointed rear it was decided to allow building if the proposed structure was moved 10 feet forward into the minimum front yard requirement of 40 feet.

This was done because the lot borders intersecting streets on the front and there are no houses with which to align the proposed structure. The board thought enough backyard space would result to allow building and the petition was granted.

Another petition before the board sought a change of zoning for a service station located at Morris Parkway and Arlington Heights Road. Richbank Cleaners asked that the zoning be changed to allow a cleaning plant in addition to a car wash and oil changing establishment.

The board deferred judgment pending inspection of a structure similar to the proposed one.

A water main on the corner of Harvard and Burgin cracked yesterday morning, shutting off water to about 15 homes in the area.

Herbert Miller, Arlington Heights water department foreman, said the break was caused by freezing weather which caused the ground to shift.

Water was running (left) when workers started digging to repair the main.

Bypass Cost Figured at $2.5 Million

Cost of building a bypass for traffic on Arlington Heights Rd. was estimated at almost $2½ million last night.

Representatives of the De. L. Lewis, Cather & Co., a Chicago planning firm, and the consulting firm, Dodge suggested diverting traffic on Arlington Heights Rd. from Eastman diagonally west to connect with Belmont at Northwest Hwy., then go under the Chicago & North Western tracks to Spauld.

The consulting firm estimated the construction cost at about $1 million.

The estimate, the firm's report said, did not include the costs of land acquisition, demolition, lighting, drainage or traffic signals.

A "second reading" of this suggestion, De. Lewis, Cather & Co. representative Maxwell Kopp said, "is that it would extend the central business district one block west."

Kopp said the bypass would make Arlington Heights Rd. from Eastman to Spauld a "local street" by funneling through traffic onto the bypass.

Mayor John Woods suggested the cost of land acquisition would be "very substantial," and Village Manager L. Mason estimated land acquisition might run as high as $1.5 million.

Kopp said the firm had not considered the project previously to the last meeting because they "did not feel it was doing anything but as a result of discussion at the last meeting we investigated it."

He said some benefit could come from the plan "with proper connection at both ends of the bypass."

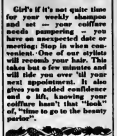

Helicopter Checking Power Line

Northwest suburban residents might have thought Santa arrived early when a helicopter was observed yesterday flying at a low altitude.

A Commonwealth Edison spokesman said, "This is a service helicopter, not a check of our three largest power lines. Three times a year each right-of-way is checked from a helicopter. The flight must be at Federal Aviation Agency requirements."

Rolling Meadows Police Department received numerous phone calls from residents regarding the helicopter.

The utility company spokesman said the flights started in the last year and property and will move to other areas as fast as wind and weather conditions permit.

Full-Time Computer Instruction Available

Northwest suburban residents can learn about computers and the data processing field in a series of free coffee hours being held at the Computer Programming Center of Computer Education Corporation.

The new training school for computer programmers is holding its open house sessions each Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. The Center serves the entire Northwest suburban community from its location at the Kennedy-Eden's Expressway junction, 4258 N. Cicero Ave., Chicago.

Dr. Robert C. Kyle, Administrator Director, has announced that the Center's full-time classes which began Dec. 9, will meet for 5 hours daily for 50 weeks, and the 6:15 week evening class for four hours, from 6 to 10 p.m. The curriculum is specifically designed to enable the student to write programs in RPG, COBOL, TLI, Fortran 3 and 4 and assembly language in a sophisticated manner, for third-generation computer systems.

OVER HALF the 1250-hour course will be spent learning and operating the IBM Systems 360 computer. All young people who are planning a business career should consider the data processing field, says Dr. Kyle. "Those who have the aptitude for data processing, and who sound training program, and who pick of jobs in today's market."

Computer Programming Center is fully accredited by the State of Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction. It is operated by Computer Education Corporation under license from Fort Lauderdale Technical College, Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Computer Programming Centers in other major cities around the country have graduated hundreds of students from this comprehensive training course.

Mrs. Hestrup Completes Course

Phyllis L. Hestrup, 1088 Birchdale Dr., Elgin, Illinois, has completed The Reynolds and Reynolds Co. school of computer produced Electronic Accounting for automobile dealers.

Mrs. Hestrup is office manager of Bonnie Motors, Inc., at 500 E. Northwest Highway, Palatine, Illinois.

At Dayton, Ohio, the Reynolds and Reynolds Co. gave her one week of intensive training to prepare for the adoption of the Reynolds and Reynolds Electronic Accounting system in the dealership where she is employed.

Reynolds & Reynolds, which pioneered Electronic Accounting for automobile dealers, will now complete the dealership's bookkeeping utilizing special adding machine parts prepared under the direction of Mrs. Hestrup at the dealership.

The tapes will be mailed to one of Reynolds & Reynolds' electronic data processing centers where the taped information will be converted into a complete set of books monthly by electronic computer and printer.

Open New Print Center

Norman G. Dombroski has announced the opening of a Speed Print-Instant Printing Center. The new office is located at 2401 E. Higgins Rd. in Oak Grove.

The Speed Print Center was established to provide a fast, low cost quality printing service in the local area.

Speed Print handles all types of printing, such as, stationery, forms, directories, catalogs, flyers, etc., whether "ready for printing," or requiring art work and layout.

Profit Transfer

The board of directors of the Palatine National Bank have voted to transfer $200,000 from undivided profits in surplus, increasing the surplus account from $400,000 to $600,000. Capital and Surplus combined equal $1,000,000.

William Fitzgerald (left) and Dr. Robert C. Kyle discuss plans for a Computer Programming Center training course. Fitzgerald is Educational Director of the Center's training program. Dr. Kyle is president of Computer Education Corp., which operates the training center at 4258 N. Cicero Ave., Chicago.

JAMES S. SHELDON, vice president and trust officer of First National Bank of the Palmetto, attended the Twenty-seventh Annual Institute on Federal Taxation conducted by New York University. The ten-day program each year attracts up to 1,000 of the nation's foremost tax advisors. The sessions dealt with a broad range of topics in the nine days and four evenings during which formal programs were conducted.

Robert H. Bukowski of Arlington Heights, has been elected a director of the Inco-Corridor Corp., Chicago based, diversified multi-market company. He is vice president in the administrative service division of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago. He and his wife, Betty Lou, have four children: Mrs. Marjorie Wilkinson, 21; Nancy, 19; Peter, 16; and Patrick, 15. They live at 1000 N. Arlington Heights Rd.

SHE'S DIALING OUR ONLY PRODUCT!

A lot of people are surprised to learn that Western Electric makes only one product—telephones. Of course, that isn't literally true, because a lot of other things are needed to make the telephone work. Western Electric makes all those things, too—including the cable which ties the telephone system together.

The story behind telephone communications—in history and its operations—is an exciting one. Western Electric is always happy to help bring that story to you. Our trained speakers visit schools and colleges, community clubs and other organizations who want to know more about electronic communications in our day and ahead.

For a brochure of information available, write to Western Electric, Public Relations, 3800 Golf Road, Rolling Meadows, or call 956-2654.

Lions Pool Bondholders Favor Park District Swap

By Ben G. Clarke

The bonds in question were issued to finance the swimming pool at Camp Menard and Elm St. Prospect Heights.

The Lions bond five per cent interest, subject to taxation.

The exchange plan provides for turning in these bonds for non-taxable municipal revenue bonds paying four per cent interest.

The board has instructed its attorneys to negotiate purchase of the pool property and assumption of the bonded indebtedness of the property.

Acquisition of the pool would be the first pool that the two-year-old park district.

Park District board chairman Lewis Wohlmann explained that the pool is one conceived and built by the local Lions Club in 1977.

He said it has been operated by US Community Service Corporation, which has been run in a non-profit corporation.

As such, Wohlmann noted, the corporation was subject to real estate taxes, higher insurance rates than a municipal corporation, and other expenses.

For these reasons, he said,

No Drop in Jet Noise Here From New O'Hare Equipment

New visual landing aids at O'Hare International Airport will not reduce jet noise here, since the town is directly northwest of the field already have the benefit of similar equipment.

Runways which bring planes over this area already are equipped with the aids and with electronic gear which helps pilots maintain a proper approach altitude.

By maintaining this altitude, pilots are able to land their planes on minimum power, thus cutting noise, according to Neil Callahan, public relations director for the Federal Aviation Administration at O'Hare.

"In the surveys we have conducted in the area around O'Hare," Callahan said, "we found that pilots were able to

New Parks Get Names

Ten new parks were named by the Arlington Heights Park Commission last night.

They range in size from 27 acres down to just enough land for an olympic-sized swimming pool. A $2.5 million bond issue approved in July will finance their construction.

J. D. Florio Park, to be located at Mulberry St. and Birchwood Dr., was named after the last member of the original 1922 city park board to not have a park already named for him.

Heritage Park, the largest, includes a school on its 27 acres and will be located at Fernandez Ave. and Victoria St. Olympic Pool Park, the smallest, will feature little more than an indoor pool and wading pool. The cost of maintenance and construction bonds will be shared by the park board with Arlington High School. The pool's location will be on Ridge near Buckle.

Menu for St. Victor High School is not available.

day for the Police department," he said.
Dick Ryan of 1178 Boswood, Mount Prospect, doesn't want to read the Walker Report.

"I was down there (in Chicago) four or five nights as a spectator. In my opinion, there were very few heroes on either side," Ryan said. "The hippie groups seemed disorganized and filled with rage; the police overreacted."

"Maybe the Walker report paints this out. Maybe there was more cruelty and injustice there than on the other side."

"At any rate, I am sort of saturated with the clichés after viewing them."

Ryan teaches mathematics at Glenbrook North school in Northbrook where he coaches football and basketball, also.

Edgar J. Dunshee, 651 Buena Vista Road, Mount Prospect, said that the United States could be evolving into a police state. "There is a lot to be discussed about the way we are going," he said.

Rev. James Michaelitz, principal of St. Victor High School, 1213 East Oakton, Arlington Heights, said that a series of "unfortunate events" caused the battle at Chicago.

"Hopefully they won't occur again and people will learn from experience, he said."

Soma residents said the same question raised in the report involves a conflict of rights.

"I am most concerned about the conflict of rights, particularly in regard to the insurance field and to riot insurance," stated Arthur H. Hopkins Jr. of 1514 North Paton, Arlington Heights, an insurance executive.

"I agreed with the action taken by the mayor in calling in federal troops and the police in view of the convention. I didn't agree with what happened in individual cases."

"I THINK the report was well done and reported the information as well as it could be presented," said Earl Jaffar, 1500 Buena Road, Mount Prospect, an airline employee and a former school teacher.

"However, if the mayor had decided to be most liberal and give the dissenting young persons an hour at the Democratic Convention to voice their views, violence may have been avoided. Of course, this presupposes that the young people would have held an election and proposed a platform and gone through the proper channels to achieve this objective," he said.

Russian Movie Will Be Shown

A free movie, "Ballad of a Soldier," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Elk Grove High School, Grove and Arlington Heights Rd. It is open to the public.

The movie, sponsored by the school's humanities section, is a Russian classic film from World War II, telling the story of a Russian soldier trying to go home from the front on leave. A discussion will follow the movie.

The Law and You

"Does it make me look yellow Submarine?" enough?"

Dreaming of a "safe" Christmas? Then, according to the Illinois State Bar Association, you can be more confident than ever that your dreams will come true.

Last year, the ILSBA noted, the Illinois State legislature passed a law known as the Flammable Fabrics and Toys Act, which sets limits on the flammability of certain toys, dolls and fabrics.

Since the law was not effective until Jan. 1, 1968, it is being subjected to its first broad test this Christmas shopping season.

AMONG OTHER restrictions, no toys or dolls may be manufactured for sale or brought into this state for sale if they are highly flammable, as flammability is measured by standards specified in the new legislation.

The law states that toys and dolls are deemed to be dangerous in the hands of children if such toy or doll burns with a self-sustained flame at a greater than 110 of an inch per second rate" when subjected to the test prescribed.

Toys also are provided in the law for fabric, wearing apparel, bedding and doll accessories to determine whether they are dangerous to persons wearing or using them.

TEXTILES are classified as subject to "normal flammability" if the "time of flame spread" is 3 1/2 seconds or more, or subject to "rapid and intense burning" if the time of flame spread is less than 3 1/2 seconds.

Exemptions are provided for toys normally used by older children and for certain potential danger is well known. Christmas trees are specifically mentioned in the law as being exempt, along with balsa wood model airplanes and other toys which by the only use for which made do not constitute flammable danger to children.

THE STATE FIRE Marshall is charged with administration of the law and with such specifications and analyses of toys, dolls and other items as may be necessary to ensure enforcement.

Violation of the law, either by a manufacturer or in a transaction or a false guarantee of flammability of no more than $5,000 fine, or up to one year imprisonment, or both.

A federal law also sets certain minimum standards for product safety and reliability. Inquiries concerning these laws should be addressed to the National Consumer Products Agency, 1016 R.N.W. Washington, D.C.

DOCTOR SAYS

Soothing Preparations

W.C. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q - What causes dermatitis and how does it develop? How can I get rid of it?

A - There are several kinds of dermatitis or inflammatory skin disease. The commonest are eczema or allergic dermatitis and contact dermatitis. Most forms of dermatitis are caused by irritation of the skin and itching or burning. As the disease progresses, papules and blisters may develop. Scratching may cause crusting and, if the disease becomes chronic, the skin may become thick and scaly. Common causes of contact dermatitis are exposure to poison ivy and other irritating plants, and various dyes, tars and oils used in industry.

Many cases of dermatitis are kept going by over-treatment, applying irritating home remedies or excessive washing with soap and water. In addition to finding and avoiding the cause, a soothing preparation, such as Lanacream, or an anti-inflammatory product, such as hydrocortisone cream, are used to relieve symptoms and permit healing.

Q - My doctor prescribed Mucin Cream for a rash under my arms and on my chest. How effective is it? Would it have any bad side effects?

A - This preparation is very effective in relieving acute inflammation of the skin. It should not be used to treat tuberculous skin lesions, ringworm, chickenpox or other viral skin diseases.

Q - I have a persistent rash on my face. It is itchy and sometimes painful. What can I do about it?

A - It is a common skin condition known as seborrheic dermatitis. It is caused by an overgrowth of a yeast-like fungus on the skin. It is most common on the face, scalp and chest. It is characterized by redness, itching and scaling. Treatment usually consists of using a topical antifungal agent, such as ketoconazole, and a topical corticosteroid to reduce inflammation and itching.

Caught With The Bodies

By Catherine O'Donnell

"Oh, oh, look out," English cautioned his companion, "back from a newspaper." He was laughing as he threw the paper at the man who had been caught with the bodies. The man with English explained. He is from Des Moines, Iowa and has a reputation for being a "body" man. He is a member of the Post or Life. And look what you made!"

"A mannequin is usually the best," he said. "I'm telling you, I guess no one means what they say anymore. There've never stopped sending me a Post or Life. And look what you made!"

"A mannequin without clothes is a real 'real' in pole position!"

The refinisher's station wagon and trailer were so filled with arms and legs and bodies and heads that when he tried to make a left turn, he couldn't see a thing and wound up on the sidewalk.

"Aren't you afraid they'll find out the trailer and land all over the sidewalk?" the woman from the newspaper asked. With supreme indifference to the feelings of a motorist who might happen upon a leg or arm or head, he answered:

"It doesn't matter, I got a lot of spare parts in my shop. Lieutenant English had stopped laughing. He was grinning from ear to ear as he towed in a head.

566 CRIMESTOPPERS Five hundred and sixty citizens have joined the Crime Stop program. That has been a formal court of how many have been called by police but Chief L. Woodward said that he feels the calls have at least helped out down vandalism.

"We get calls now from people who are around construction sites," he said, "and we're able to get out there and check in a hurry." "It almost too soon in the program to know exactly what it will do but it is certainly promising."

CIRCULATION STORY The woman who called has been a long time subscriber to the Saturday Evening Post. They wrote her last year and asked her if she would give up the Post and accept Life instead. She ignored neither the magazine and the Post. Last week she received the letter which said that they had stopped the Post last July and that she had almost four months since she had received the Post or Life. And look what you made!"

"A mannequin is usually the best," he said. "I'm telling you, I guess no one means what they say anymore. There've never stopped sending me a Post or Life. And look what you made!"

BY FRANCES ALTMAN

One of the most favored flowers of the Christmas season is the colorful poinsettia which in recent years has become a prominent part of our holiday traditions. Yet the flower was not even introduced onto the Christmas scene until 1909.

The poinsettia was first discovered in 1828 by Dr. Joel R. Poinsett, who at the time was the United States' first ambassador to Mexico and from whom the plant derives its name.

The shrub, growing nearly 10 feet tall, was a frequent sight in the Mexican woodlands where it was known as the "flame leaf" or "Flower of the Holy Night," meaning the Christmas flower.

Dr. Poinsett became so interested in the plant that he sent cuttings back to a Philadelphia florist who began growing them and sold the first plants in 1833.

THE INTRODUCTION OF the poinsettia as a Christmas decoration, however, did not occur until 70 years later. By that time Albert Ecke, a Los Angeles, Calif., vegetable farmer, had become fascinated by the plant and the many legends that linked it to the Christmas season.

One legend told was of the penniless Mexican girl who picked a bouquet of the small yellow flowers and bushy green leaves while on her way to church because she had no gift to place upon the altar. Suddenly as soon as she offered her gift, it is said, the leaves turned profusely scarlet.

Top officers of the Junior Organization of the Illinois Federation of Women made out a first-hand report on how their organizations' contributions are distributed, when they toured the Brain Research Foundation offices and the University of Chicago Hospitals in connection with Their fall, held Nov. 12, was sponsored by the Brain Research Foundation and the University's Department of Neurosurgery. The two organizations are working together to build a multidisciplinary Brain Research Center, and the Junior IFWC has contributed substantially.

OF THE $180,000 donated by the Junior Clubs of the IFWC to the Brain Research Foundation over the last 15 years, $75,000 has been earmarked for the construction of a new building.

PRECEDING THE touting of the women were the guests of the Brain Research Foundation, the Center for Continuing Education of the university campus. They were welcomed by Mrs. Roger Simms of the Gibson City, Director of the Junior Organization of the Indiana High School League, Eugene Semple, Director of Lincoln University, Director, and the Regional Directors: Mrs. N. Danial, Walworth; Arlington Heights, Mrs. Verna A. Hile, Manitowish; Mrs. W. White, East St. Louis; Mrs. M. L. Lewis, Oak Lawn. They represented over 200 clubs in the state.

The new Brain Research Institute is expected to understand the fundamental nature of the brain and how it functions in health and disease. Some of the studies will include the development and prevention and cure of dementias. It is fully expected that the new research institute will become one of the world's leading centers for research on the brain. The program was reported during the Nov. 12 tour by Dr. John F.

Rejigger Intersection and Set Up One-Way Traffic

By Barry Peterson

Two plans to clear up congestion at the intersection of Arlington Heights Rd. and Northwest Hwy. were presented to the village board by the Chicago consulting and planning firm presently doing a study of Arlington Heights.

The plans were one of four suggestions offered by the firm for immediate help for the intersection.

De Law, Carter & Co. representative George Hagenauer told last night's meeting that the first plan of the company would involve amending to the left turn lane for westbound traffic on Northwest Hwy., allowing a bigger radius for left turns from the left turn lane onto Arlington Heights Rd. and widening the two existing through lanes on Northwest Hwy. to 12 feet each.

The second plan, Hagenauer said, would involve all of these suggestions but would widen Northwest Hwy. on the west side of the intersection to include More Play.

He said the plan would cost about $50,000 to $100,000 to implement.

The two plans were included in the firm's suggestion that the intersection be widened and an extended left turn lane for westbound Northwest Hwy. traffic be added.

The company has also suggested that traffic signals at the intersection be replaced to "turnout more flexible control" while the turn crossing gates are down.

"That concern moderns be shortened to one left turn movement."

That Chicago & Northwestern westbound turn stop so that the red cars of the train do not stop across the intersection, thus blocking Arlington Heights Rd. while the train is in the Arlington station.

Village Board Trustee John Walsh pointed out that present operation of the intersection has substandard traffic on Northwest Hwy. cross the intersection into the left turn lane for westbound traffic.

In this "G," Hagenauer said, "the left lane trap would be made to order for this intersection."

He said that because westbound left turn traffic would be between islands separating those who want to turn left from through traffic in either direction, "westbound traffic would naturally funnel" between the island and the side of the road.

De Law, Carter & Co. representative Marwood Rupp said the island "traps" in traffic lanes separated by concrete islands are a problem "because if a car breaks down inside the trap, everyone in the village has to stop."

Village Manager L.A.

Henson said the estimated cost did not include any traffic signals for the intersection, estimated at about $30,000.

The signal presently there is old, and if we're going to rebuild the intersection, we might as well improve the signal," he said.

Trustee Charles Bonnett suggested immediate action on the intersection, saying, "I think the cost is low enough for us to consider making the $100,000 to see if it will solve some of our problems."

The Chicago firm also offered three suggested one-way street patterns for the downtown area, and Hagenauer told the board to "take them home and study them, so we can work some of the bugs out of the report ahead of the street."

The first pattern offered by the consulting firm suggested that Evergreen be one-way south from Eastman to Sigwal, that Danion be one-way through the downtown area, and that Vail be one-way north between Evergreen and Sigwal.

The plan also suggested making Campbell and Eastman one-way going east from Vail to Arlington Heights Rd., and having E. Miner one-way going west between Arlington Heights Rd. and Northwest Hwy.

The second pattern offered by the consultants suggested that Evergreen and Danion be a southbound one-way street from Eastman to Sigwal.

Eastman would be one-way going east from Highland to Arlington Heights Rd., and Campbell would be one-way going west from Danion to Evergreen and one-way west from Danion to Vail.

Miner would be one-way going west from Northwest Hwy. to Arlington Heights Rd.

Hagenauer suggested that any proposed plan be implemented during daylight working time, to ease confusion during evening rush hour and said the plans or modifications of the plans could be started "about April."

RUPP added that "a decision should be made shortly on what plan will be used so there's time for the purchase of signs and possible signal light installation."

The cost of the problem, Walsh said, "is whether our problems are related to the commuter or the shopper."

Mayor John Woods said the "commuter uses streets five times a week, and the shopper uses them on Saturdays."

The most frequent use of the street, Walsh said, "is the commuter traffic, and we should try to economize our plans to include this."

Hagenauer suggested that village board members study the plan "because you know the Saturday morning situation and the afternoon situation."

He suggested that modifications for the plan be suggested and decided on at the next meeting between the village board and the consulting firm scheduled for Jan. 13.

Film Dist. 25 Activities

Specialists on the staff of Arlington Heights Public Elementary Schools of District 25 are beginning a series of color sound motion pictures on district activities.

Until now 16 mm color sound motion pictures have been considered beyond the financial reach of a single school district. By combining the use of the motion picture camera, the tape recording equipment, the art work of the closed circuit television staff and the editors in the visual education department, the out-of-pocket cost has been reduced to a few hundred dollars.

Script writing, narration and research use some of the tasks handled by specialists on the school staff.

The first production has just been completed, and another is planned for release in the spring. The first color, sound motion picture, complete with background music, presented the outdoor program in which three more than 1000 students participated. The new picture is to be completed in the spring and will feature the work of the junior high schools in the district.

"We hope to develop a library of public relations materials that can be used for presentations at PTA meetings and those of other community groups," explains James Hall, director of publications for Dist. 25.

Within a few years we hope to have available a variety of materials that will include closed circuit video tapes, audio tapes, film strips and slide presentations as well as color sound motion pictures. These materials will also be used for orientation of new teachers as well as in classrooms.

Three members of the Dist. 25 staff who provided over the premiere showing of the first of a series of color sound motion pictures to be produced on annual activities of the Arlington Heights Public Elementary Schools. Left to right—James Hall, director of publications; James Montgomery, curriculum director; and Frank Diskowski, school counselor.

Annual Christmas Meeting

The Northwest Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women will enjoy their annual Christmas meeting, Thursday, Dec. 12, at 8:15 p.m. at Oakley's Community Room, Lea and Perry Sts., Des Plaines.

The program will include a panel of branch members discussing "In Modern Woman's Life Unceasingly."

Development of the topic will show how their education has influenced their lives and the roles they are called upon to play in today's society.

The panel members will be Mrs. Elmer Carlson, Prospect

Heights, moderator; Mrs. J. J. Macklin, Des Plaines, a school principal; Mrs. C. R. Brubaker, Des Plaines, a chemist; Mrs. C. B. Walsh, Arlington Heights, a free lance writer and Mrs. W. C. Childs, Park Ridge, homemaker and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Crawford, 244 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, pose in the busy they were last Saturday night in the Feast of Fables. They are flanked by Rita Perini (left) of Perini & Robinson, 24 S. Duane, Arlington Heights and Irvin Robins (right), Crawford's cousin to the United States from the Southern Highlands 21 years ago. Saturday night's banquet, in honor of St. Andrew, patron saint of Scotland, was held at Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Somebody Goofed; Here Are More Dempster Honor Students

Donald E. Skidmore, principal of District 59's Dempster Junior High School in Mount Prospect, has announced that the following names of students were inadvertently omitted from the SKIDMORE said that he would like to receive parent comment and suggestions about the Honor Roll, and the method for determining it, since this was a new program at Dempster.

"The faculty and student body of Dempster wish to congratulate these students on the revised list for their outstanding achievement," Skidmore said. "We express our regrets that this error of omission occurred."

Dempster is a District 59 junior high school serving Des Plaines and Mount Prospect students.

Choppers Doing Great On Tollway Patrol

Illinois Tollway Administrator of Aviation Robert Betz (center), briefs state policemen on the Tollway's new turbine-powered helicopter, the Bell model 206A Jet Ranger. The aircraft operates on an around-the-clock basis, serving a variety of roles. Police officials have used the aircraft for manhunt, crowd control and traffic surveillance.

Varied. In the first six months of this year the aviation department participated in police manhunts, traffic direction, maintenance operations and emergency communication repairs.

ROBERT BETZ, tollway administrator of aviation, said, "Highway police work is dependent on its radio operations. We are constantly repairing radio equipment at our tollway stations."

The pilot's logbooks are not limited to equipment-related entries. The job has human aspects as well.

Betz said, "We want our aircraft to be equipped for ambulance work."

Whistle Stop Question From Readers

by John Katsler

Today we are devoting the columns to questions which we have received from some of our readers in the past week. Overall there were three particular play situations which seemed to be the most interesting for readers.

NUMBER ONE: The play concerns about the air in the buzzer sound to end a period or a half. Contrary to many beliefs, not every ball in the air at the buzzer is counted if it goes into the basket. The main reason is whether the ball was a result of a try for goal or another reason. A try for goal is an attempt by a player to score two points by throwing the ball into his basket. Accordingly, if the ball was in flight on an official try, it counts even if the buzzer sounds before it goes into the basket. However, if the ball is in the air as a result of a tapped or heaved ball, it becomes dead as soon as the horn is sounded, and no points can be scored.

PLAY NUMBER TWO: After a fumbled pass or a recovery, the ball is awarded to the defense. However, if the ball is in the air as a result of a fumble, it is awarded to the offense if it is caught by a player before it hits the ground. If the ball is in the air as a result of a fumble, it is awarded to the offense if it is caught by a player before it hits the ground. If the ball is in the air as a result of a fumble, it is awarded to the offense if it is caught by a player before it hits the ground.

PLAY NUMBER THREE: A player commits a foul while his teammate is dribbling the ball. A free throw is awarded and the foul is charged to the player who committed the foul. If the foul is committed by a player who is not on the court, no foul is charged.

PLAY NUMBER FOUR: A player commits a foul while his teammate is shooting the ball. A free throw is awarded and the foul is charged to the player who committed the foul. If the foul is committed by a player who is not on the court, no foul is charged.

PLAY NUMBER FIVE: A player commits a foul while his teammate is shooting the ball. A free throw is awarded and the foul is charged to the player who committed the foul. If the foul is committed by a player who is not on the court, no foul is charged.

PLAY NUMBER SIX: A player commits a foul while his teammate is shooting the ball. A free throw is awarded and the foul is charged to the player who committed the foul. If the foul is committed by a player who is not on the court, no foul is charged.

Cards Decisions Wildcats, 35-8; Split Double Dual

Jack Cutlip's Arlington wildcats started their season this weekend with a decisive win over Wheeling and split the following day at the Palatine double dual meet.

Arlington moved to a 3-5-8 win over Wheeling, with pins by Don Stumpf over Mike Guy at 145, and Jay McDonnell over Chris Jorgensen at 112.

DAVE BACKSTROM and Jeff Maker were the only Wildcat winners as they defeated Arlington's Pat McCoy at the 154 level, 8-4, and Pete Harth at 160, 1-0.

Rich Wadely picked up a 6-0 win over Don Beard at 95 for Arlington, and Gary Stumpf edged Cat Mark Stumpf, 5-4. Vernon Bob Stumpf commanded 150 with a 6-3 decision over Wheeling's Rick Anderson. Mike Weber, Scott Douglas, Carl Anderson and Dan Sellick picked up decisions for Arlington over Gary Schweitzer, Rick Schaefer, Don Hill and Bob Shawna.

The Arlington jayvees also stopped Wheeling, 29-20 and the Card sophomores were victorious, 35-18.

THE CARDINALS weren't as successful the following day, as Sellick at heavyweight and Stanczak at 120 were the only Arlington grapplers to win both of their matches, giving them both a perfect 2-0 start for the weekend's ventures.

Sellick earned a pin over his Rockford-Guilford opponent in 2:49 and Sellick's 5-2 defeat of Bob Gibson of Rockford I East gave Arlington the win by a score of 22-21. Previous to Sellick's win, the Cards had been losing 21-19. McDonnell, Stanczak, Don Stumpf, Anderson and Sellick were the winners from Arlington in the meet with Rockford-Guilford, and Weber wrestled to a draw to leave the score at 19-12 for Guilford.

The Cards sophs beat Guilford, 29-19, led by pins by Bob Wilson, John Gahler, Jeff Sellick and Pete Harth.

AGAINST ROCKFORD East, wins were turned in by Wadely and Gary Stumpf and a pin was recorded by Stumpf.

McDonnell, Weber and Don Stumpf each drew, leaving the lead in Rockford hands until Sellick earned his win.

Tom Tollack's sophs were also successful, this time by a 31-16 margin. Steve Sellick, Wilson, Ed Lester and Gahler, Mike D'Amico and Jeff Sellick won their matches to bring the sophs to their second win of the day and the dual in two days.

Cards Defend Gym Title

A look of desperation crosses Bob Gibson's face as Dan Sellick of Arlington takes the upper hand in this match in a meet with Rockford East. Before Sellick's match, Rockford was winning, but the heavy-weight took a 5-2 win to give the Cardinals a 22-21 win.

The Arlington High School gymnastic team, defending their state title, opened their season Saturday with a resounding victory over Thornton, 125-71.

State individual champions Gary Drake and Terry Haines turned in fine performances on the floor exercise and trampoline events, and Kevin Lindley gave a preview of some good meets to come on the still ring.

Arlington dominated every event, giving up only one third in one event to Thornton. All-around men Bob Gleichmann and Jim Brownson looked good in every event they took part in. Gleichmann tying for first-place honors on the still rings and Brownson taking the high bar and the pommel horse competition.

The state champs will face Prospect, which was third in the state last year, in their next meet Thursday.

MEET RESULTS

Brownson, A.; 2. Gleichmann, A.; 3. Haines, A.; STILL RINGS: 1. Gleichmann, A.; and Lindley, A.; 2. Jay, T.; FLOOR EXERCISE: 1. Drake, A.; 2. VonEbers, A.; 3. Metz, A.

Kevin Lindley, 8-entrance of the Illinois state champions in gymnastics last year at Arlington, goes through the paces of his still ring routine Saturday in the Cards' first meet.

1/230 of a second could not freeze the leg action of state tumbling champion Gary Drake of Arlington as he goes through his free exercise routine Saturday. Drake's first place added the Cardinals to a near-perfect meet over Thornton.

RIGHT..New Year's greeting cards were popular during the Victorian era. Many were printed on penny

BY MARY BRUCE

As each passing season takes us further away from the turn of the century and its Victorian Christmases, more and more people become filled with nostalgia for that earlier period. It was a warm, contented and a secure time when one had time and leisure to prepare and enjoy the Christmas season to the fullest.

The Christmas holidays were celebrated and revered in a way unknown in any other era. It was then that Prince Albert first introduced the first Christmas tree to the English people. Charles Dickens wrote his "Christmas Carol" and Clement Moore's "A Visit from St. Nicholas" burst with renewed popularity during the holiday season to heighten the expectancy of the

This was the time of huge family gatherings in country cottages, horse-drawn sleighs, stovepipe hats, ladies in long skirts and fur muffs, yule logs, carols and roast duck. These quaint scenes, depicted on cards for years, arouse a picture of a true Christmas to many.

CHRISTMAS cards were introduced in England about 1840 after the penny post cards appeared in 1839. Supposedly the first person to actually send a Christmas card was a painter, W. C. Dobson, who in 1845 sent out lithographed copies of his paintings to friends. The first cards bore little resemblance to our idea of Santa Claus. It was Father Christmas in flowing robes and beard who delivered gifts to good little girls and boys.

Many of these earlier cards had pictures of children, flowers, fruit, sentimental verses and many scenes depicting little brownies and elves busy at holiday preparations.

IT WASN'T until 1874 that the cards appeared in this country when Louis Prang established a lithographing and printing business in Massachusetts. Even at that time very few of the cards displayed typical Christmas motifs considered appropriate by our standards; even though in 1862 Thomas Nast had produced a fat, jolly, roly-poly version of Santa as we know him today, from Moore's version in "A Visit from St. Nicholas." Many of the cards

When a new postal regulation at the turn of the century in this country made it possible to send a card to a friend or relative for a penny, the postcard business flourished.

Many of these cards are available today, although there seems to be many more New Year's greeting cards left than Christmas greetings. Some of the desirable names to look for on these cards are Prang, Raphael Tuck and Detroit Publishing Company. Although they are not worth more than a few cents today, they can make a lovely and worthwhile collection that can be enjoyed and displayed very effectively every Christmas season.

WHERE CHRISTMAS MEANS MORE

Her Gift List Numbers 150

By Marilyn Haffner
Mrs. James Mayers has turned her Christmas shopping.
Hopefully, you have too, but Mrs. Mayers has 150 messages on her Christmas list, AND she has to have all the gifts bought and wrapped by the Sunday.
The girls are 150 years who live at Maryville in the 5th year. Mrs. Mayers, an Arlington Heights resident, has organized a Christmas party for Maryville. Her plans beginning will be before December. She said hundreds of hand-drawn letters to clubs, organizations and business in the area to get their help.

"This year people have been very generous," said Mrs. Mayers. "I have collected over $1200 to buy presents for the team in addition to gifts of food and pop, and time for door prizes."
Mrs. MEYERS is in the midst of shopping for gifts of clothes, especially coats of different sizes. Still on her list of things to do before Sunday are getting enough wrapping paper to wrap the gifts, wrapping them, finding more door prizes, locating a group who will donate their time and music for the dance at Maryville Sunday, and finding a Santa Claus to distribute the gifts.

The Women's Aid Guild number 2 from St. James Catholic Church in Arlington Heights is helping Mrs. Mayers with her shopping and party planning. Last year guild members helped her wrap all the presents. This year the Teen-Ag Repulicans have volunteered to help with the wrapping.
Sunday Mrs. Mayers and Sheila (hopefully) will distribute gifts in each hall at Maryville. Guild members and their husbands will help Mrs. Mayers set up party decorations and chaperone the dance.

Hospital Honors 1,000 Staff Members

St. Martin Hospital, Elk Grove Village, will honor nearly 1,000 members of the staff and hospital volunteers during recognition week, Dec. 15-20, according to hospital administrator Brother Ferdinand Layne, C.F.A.
The special week will be kicked off at the annual employee's Christmas dinner Sunday, Dec. 14.

SUNDAY is set aside to acknowledge the work of the Alston Brothers on the staff and the next three days will salute particular departments within the hospital.
Wednesday is slated to honor the medical staff and Thursday is set aside to recognize the work of the volunteers. Appreciation for the work of those who join the staff from the day to September, 1968 will be expressed Friday, Dec. 20.
A Christmas party Friday afternoon will conclude recognition week activities.

With temperatures near freezing and Chicagoand preparing for another winter season, Chicago Commissioner of Health Dr. Morgan J. O'Connell says it is "irresponsible" to believe that winter is not making it difficult for the scalp to breathe. He further warns men and boys on the importance of protecting their heads as well as their bodies.
In the current issue of "Mother and Baby" and "Caretaker's Journal," Dr. O'Connell summarizes three major reasons for wearing a hat.

Why Wear a Hat

1. To avoid the drying out of natural hair oils, and drying of scalp and hair.
2. To reduce the possibility of head colds and sinus troubles from a squander to rain, snow, wind and cold weather temperatures, and thereby helping keep the scalp and sinus passages clear for proper breathing.
3. To give the head a warm atmosphere which the hair can have the best assistance to grow and thereby reduce the possibilities of baldness.

of the scalp's direct contact with the air, the hair roots obtain their oxygen from the blood supply. Therefore, also avoid tight headgear.

Student Wins Scholarship Assistance

A partial scholarship to Loyola University has been awarded to Philip Hoppe, 305 S. Ridge Ave., Arlington Heights for finishing second in the third annual mathematics contest sponsored by Loyola University.
Hoppe and two other St. Victor High School seniors competed against 130 students from 46 high schools. They are Conrad Rubinkovich, 3310 Brookside Rd., Rolling Meadows, who finished seventh, and Herb Klein, 401 W. South St., Arlington Heights, who finished eighth.
The students solved mathematical problems competing for scholarships awarded to the top three finishers.
Hoppe plans to major in math and minor in German at Loyola and teach mathematics after graduation.

Holly Oregon! That's What Boys Will Sell on Saturday

Tom Smith's garage at 2022 E. St. Jan in Arlington Heights will be a busy scene early Saturday morning.
That's when more than 50 Boy Scouts from Troop 135, riding in 20 station wagons, will converge on the Smith residence to look up with holly for their sixth annual Christmas holly sale.

Any one at confusion shouldn't be a surprise to the Smiths.
For several years, they've offered their garage to the troop for overnight storage of the holly after it's flown in from Oregon.
The garage is convenient-it's close to the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights, which sponsors Troop 135.
The troop has more than 1,000 half-pound boxes to sell, so the Smiths expect to be ringing door bells in Arlington Heights most of the day.
They will offer the holly at $1 per box. To get into the house, the Scouts must leave door-to-door last Saturday.
Proceeds from the holly sale are used mainly for new camping equipment.
The troop is one of the few troops to set up its own summer camp.
Every August, the boys run a 10-day camp at Norway Lake in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, 400 miles north of Chicago.

Area Officials To Be Briefed On Rand Freeway

Mayors of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Des Plaines and other officials in the community have been invited to a meeting Monday to discuss the proposed Rand Road Freeway.
The meeting in Chicago will offer an exchange of viewpoints and information concerning the planning and location studies for the freeway, state highway of 55 miles and along Rand Road.
They have proposed a freeway somewhat to a considerable two miles on either side of Golf Rd. from Evanston to Rand Rd. and along Rand Road to the 55th Street intersection.

You Just Wouldn't Believe It, Mom!

It's love at first sight when Barbara Walsh, 6, a guest in Arlington Heights, meets King Hippopotamus.

To this pair of Arlington Heights would-be drivers Tom Taylor, Jr., and Tom Staley, the whirling gear sounds of the Mustang Dashmobile is music to their ears.

LEFT—Sandy Whicker, 6, of Arlington Heights has visions of a "ruined" with every day as she discovers the new toy Dashmobile.

Baby Grow-a-tooth puzzle Amy Schell, 4, of Elk Grove, she touches her own tooth to make sure it isn't "rotten."

By Ruth Scholman

Toy really work this year—blenders mix milk, warm chicken and hair, doll even grows a tooth—to the amusement of the junior world.

"It's really something," Mom. You wouldn't believe it," the dark-haired 10-year-old girl told her mother as they strolled arm-in-arm through Rasmussen's. "There are new toys that make candles, the incredible Edibles, and Johnny Toyner makes cars that run."

The scene was the toy department of a Rasmussen's department store with Christmas shopping at its peak.

Dozens of youngsters of all sizes perused the aisles of the toy section with their parents or relatives in tow. It's a child's world here but there was more action and fun make-believe than ever before. Really has come to toydom. Everything works.

JUNIOR AND Sister can mimic moon and dad with no effort at all these days. Sister can bake a cake, make candy, set her hair, or whip up a milk shake on her toy counterparts of Mama's equipment.

Brother can grill a hamburger, even burn it, listen to control control airport signals, or shift into third gear on a Mustang dashmobile with the sounds of the real McCoy. And some of the children in the junior world didn't seem to know whether to be happy or sad with the toys that do so much. Some seemed to be a more simple version. Others were basic and dimmered. And of course, many were delighted with the new wearable toys.

"IT'S ALMOST frightening," confided a nine-year-old boy who didn't like some of the menageries of the wigging dolls. "I was a mailbox car," missed Eric Middleton, 8, of 1809 N. Patton, Arlington Heights, spinning the new stoppered car. "All I want for Christmas is a mailbox car."

But many other kids fingered longingly at the new Zippy speedway set to watch history-making cars race and ride on a cushion of air-jet like the cars of tomorrow.

"Tippy Tumbler," a doll who talks on her face and does a handstand when she is covered with applause. Her admirer was brown-eyed Barb Ann Yetter, three and a half, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yetter, 1583 Campbell St., Des Plaines.

TOY ANIMALS seem to have grown in size this year. Some four-foot-high stuffed animals are called, apple's nose.

Looking like a little cherub in her pink sweater and checked overalls, blond Andrea Loe wanted to play forever on a large Snoopy dog, forever in the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Loe of 1728 Magnolia Lane, Mount Prospect, and will be two years old Christmas Eve.

A Yoda green bear-like Andrea contentedly beams like she owns the nation and a "little Miss Christmas" in her.

"IT WAS love at first sight" for Barbara Walsh, 6, when she saw King Hippopotamus with his gold crown. She is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Kay Hastings of 1907 Avon Ln., Arlington Heights.

"I love him. I do. I wish he was mine," said the fresh-spirited prize with straight bangs over her forehead.

With all the little of little girl, Barbara planned a big kiss on the cheek of King Hippo's lip.

They were a blending match in color, too—red-haired Barbie, and the smiling pink King Hippo.

IN THIS era so shadowed by violence, it's encouraging to note the growing popularity of culinary toys.

Sandy Whicker, 6, is a junior cook who is enthralled about all the little homey kitchen—including the easy bake group.

"I make chocolate malted milk every day if I had this blender," the told her mother, Mrs. Frank Whicker of 1120 South Douglas, Arlington Heights.

WITH THE big-burger and shake set which has been operating on a big electric bulb, David Ponski, 7, decided he could duplicate the menu of a drive-in restaurant. The blond boy with the crew-cut and missing front teeth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ponski of Glenview.

"If I owned that set, I would put it on and play it and never, ever, get tired of listening to it," predicted Tim Grothaus as he put the earphones of the Kennedy Airport voice control set over his ear.

This new educational game directs air traffic from a control tower with electronic communications. From this exposure to the medium of scientific control, so is terms in flying may develop on many kids. Little Tim is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Grothaus of Glenview.

"THIS IS really neat," agreed a pair of Arlington Heights boys as they tried out another toy innovation—the Mustang dashmobile with its propeller, Big Stuff. Children adore them, a local steering wheels and gear shift which makes sounds as it changes in four speeds. Adding seven years in a jiffy, the nine-year-old boy imagined themselves "winning" and driving for real.

"Cool, real cool," they whispered, listening to the purring and whine-whine sounds. They are Tom Taylor of 1528 North Kemper, and Tom Staley 1125 N. Kenilworth, both of Arlington Heights.

REALITY HAS influenced doll design, too. This year's crop of dolls can turn handbags, at all, wiggle, take a pacifier, and must have unique personal life.

"Everyone loves Mrs. Beasley, the number one doll of the year," said a young George Schell of 280 Parkchester, Elk Grove.

"Family Affair" series Mary Gibson, a four-year-old chatter, looked like Mrs. Beasley's double when she framed her face with the doll's square glasses. The look-alikes are both blonde, blue-eyed, and wear a smile as a trademark.

WHEN MARY pulled her string, Mrs. Beasley cooed: "I do think you're the sweet little friend I have had. You may call me Mrs. Beasley. Would you like to play? Do you want to hear a secret? I know one."

But the secret is never divulged. One kid thought the "mystery" might plague a small lot.

Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson of 132 S. Waverly Place, Mount Prospect.

PUZLED BY Baby Grow-a-tooth was Amy Schell, 4, daughter of George Schell of 280 Parkchester, Elk Grove.

When Amy removed the pacifier from the doll's mouth, the tooth appeared. Amy couldn't make up her mind whether or not she liked the hurry. Don't any like the doll? Does she make up the doll? Like the Mona Lisa, the answer's a mystery. No one will ever know. Probably not even Amy.

Expires 12/15/68

THE MEETING yesterday was the first held since the annual meeting in November at which several new executive committee members were elected.

Among the newcomers are Mayor Nick Blase of Niles, and the first three women to serve on the council's executive committee, Mrs. Charles O. Pryor, trustee of Northbrook; Mrs. Donald M. Peddy, cord, elder man of Homewood, a southwestern suburb; and Mrs. Spencer E. Irons, president of the Florence Park District.

Mickelson also told the Council that Ogilvie plans to introduce into the Illinois legislature a bill next month for recognition of the Council of Governments in Illinois, including a $500,000 appropriation to assist in their programs.

The first order of business at Wednesday's meeting of the council was a series of reports on all the matters which the

A meeting between a Plan Commission committee and a Village Board of Trustees to consider the proposed Rand Rd. expressway was suggested last night.

An electric pass-stamping machine was reported stolen yesterday from an office machine at Arlington High School, according to Arlington Heights police.

Police said the machine which would stamp the date and time on students' passes was taken sometime between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Planners Recommend Talks On Expressway Proposal

Anderson, chairman of a commission committee studying possible locations for the expressway expected to be built in a two-mile corridor on either side of Rand Rd. said the two committees should meet to discuss the location of the new expressway.

Anderson, reporting to a Plan Commission meeting, also said that the village

Anderson said the CATS report suggested a route west from an area near Gold Rd. and McCormick Blvd. to run parallel to Rand Rd. until it intersects with Illinois 53.

Advise anyone considering development of the land to wait until a definite expressway site has been chosen.

Anderson quoted the Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS). He said in the report that CATS estimates Arlington Heights traffic will be "seriously disrupted" by 1980 if an expressway is not built.

Violator Gets $120 Fine

Charles D. Jones of 12 N. Elmhart, Prospect Heights, was fined $100 and 15 days for driving with a suspended license.

The violations took place at Randolph and Plum Grove Rd.

Judge George Zimmerman told the fine in the Plaines Circuit Court Wednesday.

Blocks Stolen From School

Police are investigating the theft of 19 cases of glass blocks from a construction site in Arlington Heights.

The theft was reported to police yesterday by workers from the Caesar Flicke Construction Co. of Highland Park, which is building an addition to St. James Junior High School, 800 Arlington Heights Rd.

Wreath Stolen

A Christmas wreath was stolen yesterday from the front of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn., 25 E. Campbell, according to Arlington Heights police.

Location of Walks Snags Project Vote

The City of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and Plainfield will meet with Illinois Division of Highways spokesman at 10 A.M. in the Loop.

For parking at the business district, in bus stop or in a lot to stand or during snow removal, fees for a first offense are $25, and $12 for a second offense, the fine will be $12 for the first offense, $17 for the second offense, and $12 for the third offense.

The decision was made because the aldermen could not decide whether to install sidewalks along the parkway through a park planned for the apartment complex.

Fred Walter of Hill Homes, developer of the project, urged the council to approve the plan during the Tuesday session.

This has been put off for months," Walter said, "but the council agreed to put the sidewalks through the park. If it's necessary, we'll put them on the west side of Barker as well."

The council had suggested the walk along Barker for the use of school children.

The council would to return the plan for the property to the Zoning Commission for review.

The council adopted new penalties for traffic violations at last night's meeting.

Wheeling GOP to Wrap Up Big Year With Yule Party

By Richard Cnabi

The Wheeling Township Republican Organization will wrap up its year in formal action during the Yule Party.

There never has been a year like 1968, and Marshall Theresa of Arlington Heights, president of the Wheeling Township Republican Club, has announced the annual Christmas party to be held in Mount Prospect Friday evening.

"The finale will be a Christmas party for all Wheeling Township Republicans. Held in the VFW Hall in Mount Prospect, the party will begin at 8:30 p.m. and will feature entertainment and a midnight buffet supper," said Theresa.

All Republican groups in the township, affiliated with the Wheeling Township Republican Organization, are invited to the party. These include the Young Republican Club, the Republican Club, the Young Republicans and the Republican Workshops. Both members and non-members are invited. No reservations need be made.

Theresa listed these highlights of 1968:

"First major event of the year was the holding of the largest candidate night in the history of the organization. Candidates for all state and county offices appeared at the candidate nights held Feb. 2 at Oak Orchard Country Club in Mount Prospect and Feb. 16 at Holiday Inn in Rolling Meadows. Each candidate night drew crowds of 500."

"The 1968 spring held June 1 brought an increase in the number of Wheeling Township precincts from 66 to 79, reflecting the fact that some 10,000 additional voters had moved into the township and registered since the 1966 election. Wheeling Republicans gave motivation to every candidate endorsed by the township Republican Organization.

The first week in August the township organization was well represented at the Republican national convention in Miami Beach.

"Wheeling Township Republicans staged the third annual dinner dance Oct. 5 at Arlington Park. It was described by Sen. Everett Dirksen as the "largest township political event ever held in the United States."

Dirksen was one of three United States senators who attended the event, held on the anniversary of the first governor's ball in Illinois, also observed the state's sesquicentennial.

"Wheeling Township was best in the first round of the political rally held Oct. 19 with Richard M. Nixon the eventual Presidential winner, and his wife as guests of honor. The rally was held in the Prospect High football house. Nearly 3,000 people were seated inside the football house. A crowd estimated at 8,000 gathered outside the football house and was addressed separately by Nixon, Sen. Dirksen, Sen. Percy, Cong. Dan Rostenkowski, and Cook County Board President Robert Ogilvie, candidate for governor, were other special guests. An unexpected highlight of the rally was the phrase Nixon has said: "Nixon has that ooh-ah!"

The phrase caught on and became a part of the campaign language all over the nation during the closing days of the contest.

On Nov. 5 Wheeling Township citizens went to the polls in record numbers. The township gave Richard Nixon the majority of nearly 17,000 votes, a larger total than he received in 47 of the 101 Illinois counties. Only DuPage, Lake and Kane counties gave Nixon larger pluralities than Wheeling Township.

Steven Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmidt of Mount Prospect became an Eagle Scout as a special award ceremony Nov. 25 at St. Mark Lutheran Church, Mount Prospect.

Steven is currently treasurer of Explorer Post 51 sponsored by St. Mark Church. The post meets every second Monday under the leadership of Raymond A. Krause.

ABOVE—Judy Sullivan, 13½ N. Duane, Arlington Heights, a six-year-old, remembers the joy of Christmas as both of little things—brightly-colored lights framing a window, packages under a tree, warm hugs from her mother (distinguished by longer hair) and father, and Judy herself, smiling, bravely, holding the doll she would like to receive from Santa Claus. Judy is a primary student at St. Peter Lutheran School.

Sometimes the best Christmas surprise can come in mysterious packages! Joseph Morrise, 3½ years old, who is a first-grader at District 25's North School in Arlington Heights, has drawn a truly-wrapped box (contents unknown). Maybe half the fun of Christmas is anticipating? Joe lives at 316 W. Fremont, Arlington Heights.

"Mr. Agnew wants to know how long before his name is a household word?"

Read, Up to a Point

Talk With A Teacher

Dear Mrs. Culton:

My mother says that she thinks some people read too much. I love to read. I read newspapers, magazines, books and more books. What do you think about this? I enjoy your column.

Mrs. D. S. De Plaines, Ill.

DEAR MRS. D.S.:

The last time I visited my doctor, he said that I needed to get more outdoor exercise, but, you see I also love to read. I would rather read than wash dishes, make beds, rake leaves or take my dog for a walk. Therefore, sometimes I feel trouble.

I know that we should never read to the point of excluding other worth while or necessary activities. Budgeting time is the only solution, that I know to this problem, because reading is so very important to people of all ages. Reading can never be a substitute for living, but reading will enormously enlarge the range of our living by awakening and deepening our emotions and by giving us facts and ideas without which we could not work, talk or think. We should and can let a program for ourselves which includes much reading.

Dear Mrs. Culton:

In your answers to readers' questions you stress "read and read more." Why? Is there so much one gets from reading that I, for instance, cannot get from just living?

Mrs. A.L. Niles

DEAR MRS. A.L.:

You have given me an interesting question to answer. Teachers do constantly keep telling you to read, read and you probably begin to wonder if information is all that you need in life.

Is there something out there from literature that one cannot get from just living? How much of the world is it possible for you to see during a lifetime? Books can take us to every corner of the earth to the moon and under the sea.

How many people do you know—one hundred, three hundred, maybe more? What kind of people are they? Good, American people like ourselves who live the same lives. In books you can learn about kings, queens, and famous folk both rich and poor. It is necessary that people have knowledge of the darker side of life, and of both good and evil. A book is the safest way to gain this knowledge without exposing ourselves to great danger.

Literature expands our experience, geographically, historically, socially, emotionally and intellectually. I love to read the romantic poems to help assist my optimism. In our literary heritage there are books to help every mood. Reading can never be a substitute for living, but can always enlarge the range of our living. What a limited existence we should have without books.

Distinguished Flying

By Catherine O'Donnell

William Koppell of Wing St. is 37 years old. In all of his life, he says he can't remember ever being so proud of anyone as he is of his 24-year-old grandson, Air Force Lt. Bill Koppell, son of the junior "William Koppell, who of Wing St. A neighbor of theirs, Mrs. Helen Schmitz who is so proud of young Bill that she would like him to know about his latest honor. Bill returned recently from a tour of duty in Vietnam where he piloted a "Caribou," the service name for heavy duty cargo planes. Before he left Vietnam, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross by Gen. Robert McNamara.

He is back at work now at Laughlin Air Force Base in Texas, teaching other young men the intricacies of flying in combat. Bill should know. The cross, which is a decoration usually given for action above and beyond duty proved that he was not just a distinguished pilot.

A Green Beret outfit was completely surrounded by the Viet Cong when Bill made what could have been a suicide run to bring in supplies. The plane was pretty battered but still airworthy and Bill flew in again with more supplies.

Reining's job will be to assist the village council, in gathering information on additional highways needed in the northwest suburbs and in relaying this information to the conference.

Fred A. Mamule, 620 N. Fairview, was named alternate delegate.

In other action, the commission sent requests to the village council asking for

The time is growing shorter. According to the number one chappie who refuses to let the world know when she, the boys' days are being reduced, especially in a big store in Mount Prospect.

Council Names J. Reising Delegate

The Mount Prospect Safety Council Sunday chose Joseph A. Reising of 405 N. Taft as its permanent delegate to the Northwest Suburban Council.

Commission Chairman O. Truman Gustaf said that Reising's job will be to assist the village council, in gathering information on additional highways needed in the northwest suburbs and in relaying this information to the conference.

Fred A. Mamule, 620 N. Fairview, was named alternate delegate.

In other action, the commission sent requests to the village council asking for reduced speed limits on Wolf Rd. where it joins State Road School, at 350 Wolf Rd. Gustaf said that the speed limit on Wolf where it passes school is higher than the speed limit on either side of this stretch of road.

At the meeting it was announced that Harper Junior College is interested in discussing with the village potential academic courses on traffic problems. Gustaf said that a release would be made, "perhaps this week," on the home safety survey conducted recently. He said that this report would be released by Fire Chief Edwin Haberkamp.

Casserole Colorful, Delicious

Day at HOME

Thursday, December 12, 1968

The holiday season is a time when we can lavish our creative energies on gala concoctions for family and friends. The preparation and presentation of food in elegant style is always the ultimate compliment we can pay our guests.

For a six-course dinner or buffet, Idaho Potato-Artichoke Casserole is handsome, color-keyed to the season and delicious. This casserole goes well with baked ham, cranberry molded salad with pineapple chunks and lemon chiffon pie for dessert.

IDAHO POTATO-ARTICHOKE CASSEROLE
1 cup peeled, sliced and parboiled Idaho potatoes
1 (8-ounce) package frozen artichoke hearts, thawed and drained
1/2 cup drained, diced onions

1/2 cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup eggs, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons water
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In a large bowl, combine potatoes, artichoke hearts and pineapple in ground casserole dish. Add sour cream or margarine. Add sour cream, eggs, salt and pepper. Pour over potatoes. Sprinkle with ground cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes or until brown on top. Serve.

With French Potatoes and French fried Idaho potatoes, regular or crinkle cut, broken or sliced into 1/2-inch lengths. Prepare as above. Bake for 20 minutes or until 375 degrees or until nicely browned.

With Packaged Potatoes:
Add 1 (9-ounce) package frozen artichoke hearts, thawed and quartered and 1/2 cup chopped, drained onion to the package of dry grain potatoes. Prepare according to package directions.

RIGHT-TOGETHER Idaho
Potatoes-Artichoke Casserole blends delicate flavors of artichoke hearts, sour cream with subtle accents of onion, cheese and potatoes.

Special Treat For St. Emily Club Members

A special treat for all club members of St. Emily's Women's Club, there will be a Christmas party Thursday at 8 p.m. in the school lower hall.

A fund-raising event is being held for everyone. Mr. Brooks from Bureau's Kimball Music Center in Des Moines will provide musical entertainment.

A Special Dip

Feeling very much in the Christmas spirit, Speedy Gourmet has come up with ideas to help you with your holiday entertaining. Speedy's recipe for this special dip that can be whipped up with your guests and family during the holidays.

PARTY CELERY DIP

1 pound cream-style cottage cheese
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped fresh chives (or use frozen)
1/2 cup minced green pepper
1/2 cup finely grated carrot
Celery sticks

Combine cottage cheese and seasoned salt; beat well with electric mixer. Stir chopped celery, chives, green pepper and carrot into cottage cheese. Chill. Serve as a dip with celery sticks. Makes about 2 1/2 cups dip.

When you need a meat that's festive but time is short, prepare Holiday Stroganoff. Bake in a shallow baking dish (12 x 8 or 2 inch) covered 3 cups cooked medium noodles, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 teaspoon rosemary, crumbled 1/4 cup toasted almond slivers. Remove stroganoff from 4 packages 18 1/2 ounces each frozen beef stroganoff. Arrange on top of noodles; cover tightly. Bake at 450 degrees for 35 minutes. Stir Stroganoff before serving. Four servings.

Provide youngsters with a special holiday signing of their own. In a bowl combine 1 quart chilled dairy egg nog and 1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract. Serve in tall glasses with candy canes or peppermint sticks for stirrers. Yield: 4 cups.

Thomas Home Setting For Art Exhibition

A new dimension was added to the Nov. 16 private showing of paintings by Irene "Rae" Partridge, Arlington Heights artist. Collections of her paintings in a variety of sizes from diamond and circular shapes to standard rectangular shapes were brought out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. Thomas, 75 Cottage Rd., Elk Grove Village.

In using the Thomas home as a setting for this annual exhibit, Rae and her husband, Jim, added certain decorator touches to the residence including the creation of center flower arrangements, centerpiece and an entry planter to coordinate with the exhibit.

IN ACCORD with the decor of the house, complimentary paintings were hung in every room, halls, hallway, stairway and entrance. The family room featured an unusual gallery wall collection while the stairways were highlighted by special stairway paintings which are angled for this particular purpose.

The focal point of the showing was Rae's "High Spins of Chicago" featuring well-known Chicago landmarks, from the Buckingham Fountain in the foreground to the Hancock building which soared up and out of the picture.

This one painting, done in blue, green and gold oils on the rough side of Masonite, weighed nearly 18 pounds. Other unusual aspects of the small paintings mounted on framed mirrors and used as entry, hall and powder rooms. These were designed by the artist's husband as were all the picture frames.

THE HIGH point of the Junior Help Handicapped

Women of the social service committee of the Arlington Heights Junior Women's Club are working toward making this year a bit more festive for children at the Courtyard Center for the Handicapped in Burlington. Several small parties and an outing are planned for the youngsters.

The first of these was held Dec. 3 with Mrs. Andrew Hughes as chairman.

The children were served Christmas cookies and each one was given a souvenir "happet" made from a paper bag and decorated by committee members. They were entertained in their classrooms by Mrs. Susan Smith, Mrs. Edna Spitz and Mrs. H. H. H. H. H.

When all had joined together in the pastor Mrs. Roger Lindholm showed the children fingerplays and rhythm singing was led by Mrs. H. H. H.

Another party will be given on Feb. 15, Valentine's Day, and an outing is planned when the weather permits.

Groups Decorate Library

Christmas decorations at the Arlington Heights Memorial Library have been coordinated by the Arlington Heights Garden Club.

Decorations for a 12-foot artificial pine tree at the library entrance were made by Girl Scout Cader Troop 116, the Creek Tribe of the Indian Girls, the P.E.O. organization (G.S. Chapter), and members of the Garden Club.

ABOVE THE door of the library are two wreaths made by Garden Club members. Working under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence Brown were Mrs. Charles Wagner, Mrs. Danella Dickinson, Mrs. Thomas Burns, Mrs. Saunders Renshaw, Mrs. Warren Latof, Mrs. Leslie Schrank and Mrs. Howard Lapp.

A replica of an 1860 old-time house decorated by Mrs. Latof will be on display in the children's room. The tree is similar to one it is in the novel "Cody's Way Christmas" in the section of excerpts from "Cody's Lady Book".

Visitor From The Bahamas

Michael Hume, of Nassau, Bahamas, will be visiting for a week at the Herman Faldut home, 402 West Buena Avenue, Mount Prospect.

On a visit to the islands last July, Nancy Faldut and Mike Hume, who are now in Chicago, hope to encourage his hosting them in the Bahamas by showing them the United States and the United States.

Adorning the white table under spruce, holly, stars and angels decorating the library Christmas tree are children of Garden Club members (l. to r.) Tracy and Wendy Galits, Todd Dickison, Elizabeth Latof and Russell Brown.

Gifts for the Cooks on Your List

BY CHARLOTTE
BRICKSON

If we think "kitchen" we can come up with a long list of ideas for gift giving. One very clever gift I received several years ago was a small, toy spatula. It is no more than six inches wide and makes an absolutely perfect tool when serving broccolis, beans, etc., from a pan. As they are very inexpensive, they could serve as a token holiday gift or a little something extra to tuck into a larger gift.

With so many new things appearing on the market each year, serving and cooking utensils offer a wealth of ideas, even for those who have everything! Some Teflon lined baking pans are marvelous to own. However, I would be lousy if any large Teflon lined cake pans, pie tins, etc. where you might wish to cut serving pieces in the pan. This would scratch and ruin the Teflon lining.

IT'S AMAZING how many cooks don't have a set of dry measuring cups, which come in all sizes ranging from one-half cup to one gallon. As always, the book stores are filled with many new and interesting cookbooks including THE FREEZER COOKBOOK by Chilton Books, "Cookies" by Simon and Schuster, "Visions of Sugarplums" by Random House and "Single Bells and Pastry Shells" by World Publishing.

If you don't have a blender, now is the perfect time to buy one for the man of the house. This is one of the few things for the kitchen he can enjoy using, especially good for mixing salads, beverages and cocktails, and I'm sure he won't object to your giving it a good workout when he's taking it.

The marvelous little piece of machinery is one of the greatest time-savers for otherwise mental time-consuming jobs such as grating carrots and other vegetables for molded salads, mulling dressings, grating potatoes for potato pancakes, etc. You'll just love it.

TABLE DECORATIONS

Start looking over for the pointed little paper cup that will be so individual. They are just the perfect size for small individual Christmas tree motifs. Using a lime flavored gelatin filled with fruit cocktail it makes a lovely green tree. Set the paper cups in small juice tins until the gelatin is firm. The small tins may be served on a hot of lettuce and tomatoes with one of the cheeses that come in an easy to use container. You may wish to make your own mayonnaise and fruit chutney as the base, instead of the store-bought. Top with a few sprigs of parsley and you'll truly give your guests a festive touch.

SIMPLE CHICKEN

Time: 5 minutes

Yield: 5 servings

1 can unflavored chicken with rice sauce

1 can mince mushroom soup

5 cups or 1 small can evaporated milk

1 cup dried cooked boneless chicken

1 cup dried celery

1 jar (4 oz.) pineapple, can

1/2 cup onion, chopped

Combine all the ingredients in a 2-quart casserole dish. Bake at 350 degree F. oven for 45 minutes to 1 hour. If chicken pieces are large, cut into bite-size or smaller.

QUICK AND EASY POT ROAST*

Wonderful for those days when you won't be home until well before dinner time. Put it on in the morning and dinner will be ready when you get home. This is a delicious all-in-one meal that needs only salad for an accompaniment.

Among those assisting Mrs. Gallagher in her efforts to minutes

Yield: 6 servings

3 cups of frozen meat

1 pkg. dried onion soup mix

5 pound carrots, cut into 1 cup wedges

6 medium-sized potatoes

1 cup frozen peas (optional)

1 cup frozen corn (optional)

Put the frozen meat out of the freezer and put it into a large overproof pan (preferably one with a lid). Sprinkle with onion soup mix, and arrange the carrots and potatoes around the meat in the bottom of the pan. If your pan doesn't have a lid, cover heavy-duty aluminum foil over the top. Cook in a 275 degree F. oven for 6 to 8 hours, depending on whether or not the meat is frozen. Check every four hours to see if there is enough liquid in the pan. If your meat is of high quality, there should be enough moist juices to that you won't have to add any more liquid.

Turn potatoes once or twice, so that they'll become a nice deep brown while cooking in the gravy. To make a good gravy, just before serving, remove meat and vegetables; add a little flour, dissolved in cold water, to the liquid in the baking pan.

What Happens to Letters To Santa Claus?

Did you ever wonder what happened to letters your youngsters write to Santa Claus?

Every year they descend like snowflakes and make a mountain of mail at Santa's Workshop, North Pole, N.Y.

Santa reads and opens every letter. After he checks over the list, his correspondence secretary takes over. Jerald A. Roeman, public relations director of Santa's Workshop, reads over 50,000 such letters every year.

Roeman is author, designer and illustrator of the book "Don't Get Stuck in Our Chimney!" a collection of humorous asseges from letters written to Santa Claus, published by Exposition Press of New York City.

LETTERS arrive from all over the world, and all year long. The book contains a cross section of the types of letters received. As one reviewer said, "It is a highly humorous glimpse for any adult into the delightful, creative and candid mind of childhood." Commenting on his book, Roeman said, "I am continually amazed at the logic and creativity of children in their letters to Santa. I am also disturbed by the obvious trend in the "Commercial" Christmas spirit, which is a reflection of the materialistic drive to their parents. Too often a letter to Santa is a contract between a child and his parents, instead of a friendly note to a generous ideal. OFTEN asked to speak to area service clubs and organizations, Roeman talks about his unique job, and suggests ways letters to Santa may be used to develop a child's character. Roeman is scheduled to appear on a variety of network and local television and radio programs concurrent with the release of his book.

Northwest Suburbs Get Own Air Control Area

It's official now, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Des Plaines and other northwest suburban communities in Cook County are now included in the air quality control region designated this week by Wilbur J. Cohen.

NEW necessary, following the October public consultation held in Chicago.

The demarcation of the Chicago metropolitan area for intensive air control is the third such action in a series of 32 scheduled over the next 12 months in areas which collectively contain about 64 percent of the nation's urban population. Washington, D.C., and New York were the first to be named, and Philadelphia is next on the list.

Under the Air Quality Act of 1967 leading to designation of Chicago as the third area, NEW is required to publish air quality standards for harmful pollutants, provide the State with latest scientific data on improving controls, and sell ways and means best suited to controlling air pollution. Each state in the specific area then has the responsibility of how best to use recommended control equipment, changes in fuel use or industrial processes or any other practical approach.

Huskie, 'Cat Gymnasts' Open Season With Matches Tonight at 7

By Linda Cunniff

Sports Editor

Both Henry and Whetling will begin their gymnastic schedules for the year tonight with conference opponents. The Wildcats, fifth in state competition last year, will face Palmetto at the first gym meet, and the Huskies will travel to Ft. Pierce to meet a tough Falcon crew.

Whetling coach Wayne Selig says that his team this year will not be equal to the powerhouse he had last year because he lost most of his strong men to graduation or to college. All-around Prospect Gary Morava made the switch to Henry this fall, leaving Selig without any of his top performers from last year's campaign.

COMPETING TONIGHT for Whetling will be Don Rainer, Steve Hothouse and Mike Hughes on the trampolines; Renee Mathis, Tom Zanday and Cliff Holliman on side horse; Mathis, Rainer and Hughes on high bar; Rainer, Bob Mc Carley and Mathis on parallel bars; Hughes, Steve Oakley and Holliman on rings; and Rainer, Zanday and McCarley in floor exercise.

Rainer is the brother of Dick, who competed on varsity for Selig last year, and Zanday and Oakley have inherited "cat" talent from the father in football for the Wildcats this fall.

Selig doesn't know what to expect from the Falcons. "I don't know anything about this season," he said.

AS FOR THE HUSKIES, coach Don Van Elteren has inherited "cat" talent from both Whetling and Arlington, and says "his most outstanding performer" will be ding performers" will probably be Morava and Lance Bovey. "Morava was 13th or 14th in the all-around in the district last year," said Van Elteren, "but he still has an awful lot of work cut out for him."

An accident has hampered Morava's work this year, but he hopes to make the team. "I'm not sure he's ready yet," said Van Elteren.

Also putting the damper on the Huskie opening season was the fact that they, like most of the other teams at Henry, have had to do their practicing at places other than their own school and at times that was not conducive to good results. "You don't have much left when you come back around," said Van Elteren.

THE HUSKIES will finally move into their own gym today after traveling to Whetling for all practices so far.

There is still a "pretty fair turnout" of boys for the Huskie gymnastics club, with 24 participants, with 20 freshmen heading the list. The rest are sophomores and juniors, but only two sophomores have made the varsity so far, according to Van Elteren.

THE TWO SOPHOMORES are Neil Greivy, one of Van Elteren's "specialists," on the rings, and John Weaver.

Other boys that look to give good performances tonight are Craig Sjogren, another specialist on the trampoline; Mike Woodring, who is "pretty strong" on the side horse; Todd Kahan, a parallel bar, and Dan Cavelli, who is "very good" on the high bar.

Van Elteren said "The other boys are coming up fast, but added that tonight is their first meet and this is their first year. "We've been operating under very poor circumstances," said the coach. "We've only been practicing since the first part of November."

Robert Vow led for a non-tune-up encounter. ROBERT VOW tied for 18th place in the state meet last year, it again strong, having beaten perennial power Wilton.

Wilton was hit by a fraction in their first meet this year and topped. MANE WIN last Friday night.

Strong competitors for the Falcons are John Conner on side horse and Bob Berglund, whose fall event is the parallel bars. In addition, Berglund, whose fall event is the parallel bars. In addition, Berglund, whose fall event is the parallel bars.

CHILDREN'S team. The ambitious Falcons have another meet scheduled for Friday at Lake Forest at 4 p.m., and Whetling will host New Trier West on Saturday at 2:45 p.m.

EG Gymnastics Start MSL Action at Glenbard N. include Benny Fernandez, Dave Sakita and Wayne Olson, all in their third year at EG. Bill Saunders, in his final year of competition on the high bar, will be assisted by Fernandez and Dave Swensen, another junior; while John Stevens, a second year man, "in a definite possibility in that event," said Gaines.

Paralle bar competitors for the Granddies include Saunders, Fernandez and junior Curt Hejduk. Fernandez will perform on the still rings as well, an event which will feature senior Victor Golekewich and Daryl Bartley, a junior.

In the new event, floor exercise, Fernandez, Saunders and Dale Watters, a junior to be the total to nine, will work representing EG teams.

GAINES said, "We're shooting for a 300 season or better; however, a lot depends on our juniors. They have the basics in their routines and have now reached a point where they need the big trick. The big question is whether they can put it into their routines and get a solid A, since they'll make the stunts by the end of the season," Coach Gaines said.

Students to Hear Noted Forecaster

Television weatherman Harry Volkman will speak Thursday to students at Dryden School in Arlington Heights.

Volkman, who received the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences "Emmy" award in 1962, 1965 and 1966, is a professional member of the American Meteorological Society.

Due to a typographical error in Thursday's Day News-papers, the price of chickens in Jewel Food Store's ad was incorrect.

The price for chicken this week should have been:

GOV'T. INSPECTED GRADE "A" FRYING CHICKENS

WHOLE 27¹/₂ LBS.

CUT UP FRYERS 31¹/₂ LBS.

Residents of the Cepak Arlington Highlands subdivision met last night to organize a protest against the Board of Local Improvements (BOLI). BOLI has adopted a resolution to pave and place street on the eight streets in the subdivision, from Central south to Magnolia, and from Evergreen to Ridge. "The issue we got things about," said David Krask, 1051 S. Chestnut, "the house changes we have to fight."

The paving project, estimated to cost about $400,000, was discussed at the last BOLI meeting, Dec. 5, and is scheduled for consideration at the agency's Jan. 23 meeting.

Krask's petition said the proposed paving would increase traffic in the subdivision by offering a "bypass" route around the intersection of Central and Kinross.

The additional traffic, Krask's petition said, would cause a hazard to children in the area.

He added that the assessment would cause a "severe financial hardship for a significant number of residents caused by the magnitude of the anticipated assessments."

Krask suggested BOLI withdraw the paving project completely or alter it to the wishes of residents.

He said the petition to BOLI would be followed by a petition to the village board if BOLI passes the present resolution.

"I have no objection to leaving the street paved the way they are," Krask said. He added that the petition would be followed by a petition to the village board if BOLI passes the present resolution.

Prospect's 'Our Town' Worthy of Re-Runs

BY
CATHERINE O'DONNELL

It is good to recall that the Prospect High School production of "Our Town" played to houses for the three performances of its existence. It should go down as one of the brighter plays of the local high school scene. Despite opening night nervousness and an overly long audience participation scene, the cast played with such a deep sincerity that there was no clamorous sobbing from segments of the audience through the third act. "Death" by playwright Thornton Wilder.

IT WOULD BE UNFAIR TO single out special actors or actresses for attention in the cast of 31. Even the atmosphere was caught up in the tender mood of the play and added little bits of business that brought their characters to life.

The play tells the story of life and death in Groves Corners, a small town in New Hampshire. The time is in the uncomplicated period at the turn of the century. The play is devoid without irony or propriety.

In some productions properties are used. In Prospect High School's version, the Drama Guild chose to do without. The mood was set by the stage lighting which created a minimum of drama. In fact, two zone-trailant magenta light fixtures were used to highlight Emily Webb and George Gibbs in their second floor bedrooms looking out of a non-existent window at a non-existent moon.

THE IMAGINATION of the audience was provided by the director and acting into instant acceptance of everything the playwright wanted to show. The director was Mrs. Patricia Lewkowicz, head of the Drama Department.

Christmas Carol
Opens at Mill
Dec. 26

All the photos of town past will be on hand to witness the performance of Mill Run Playhouse producer, Carl Stohr Jr., in Dickson's "Christmas Carol." Both will star in Scrooge in the play for the first time.

THE TICKETS ARE on sale for the production which will be given at the Helene Bart Memorial Theatre at Arlington Heights High School Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 24, 25, 26, 31 and Feb. 1 and 2. They can be purchased by writing to the Mill Run Playhouse, 300 N. La Grange, Chicago 64, Ill. They sell for $2.50 and $5.00.

know just about all of Campbell's past.

THE REHEARSALS are going on without a hitch. McKee and his wonderful voice will have Arlington just after the first next year.

"Something Different" has much in common with the Edsels! However, most of the supporting cast gave professional support to the play.

Besides the play, I can report that the Candlelight offers all - very pleasant dining at accommodations, courteous service and food which seems to be a thing at some restaurants these days.

Santa is almost here and your hustling to get those not-to-be-forgotten last minute gifts.

Maybe the Flying Carpet Restaurant for you would be just right about now.

They offer a most complete menu selection of good wines, dance music and entertainment every Friday and Saturday night by the "Four Impassables." I've seen the show and tasted the food. The price is right and think you'll enjoy it.

If you haven't been to the Golden Eagle Restaurant in Arlington Heights, put it on your mind now! The pleasant atmosphere, cozy fireplace and bright Christmas decorations make the food and cocktails taste even better. Also on hand is the "Don Polo Trio," which keeps the music going for your dancing and listening pleasure.

Ellie Sten, on her return visit to the DeVille Motor Inn Lounge in Des Plaines has the place jumping with her "Auntie Approach to Comedy." Ellie also sings and plays favorite songs of the past and future. If you stay long enough you may be able to join on a number and give your vocal chords a workout.

GOOD NEWS... It's refreshing to note that the Big Family can still enjoy two big movies at a reasonable price in our area. The theatre is the Des Plaines Theatre, and believe it or not, adults' admission is only 60c and children's admission is only 30c. Besides this, they make their own really good popcorn, in which I'm certain, you movie-goers haven't found often.

"SEE YOU NEXT FRIDAY - RILEY."

FV Wins Hersey Gym Contest

Forest Valley's varsity gymnasts picked up a third win in a one last night, 94-80, 40-40, over the Hersey Hawks.

Hersey was competing in their first varsity meet, and the young Hawks gave a good account of themselves with one first-place finish and three thirds against the tough Falcons of Gray Hughes. The first first for a Hersey gymnastics team was won by Craig Sigerson on the rings with a 5.45 average which was far ahead of any other.

FOREST VALLEY'S FIVE first places and four third places with a second undoubted in between would have given them a rounding victory under last year's scoring methods, but this year, with the averaging of each gymnast's score, the meet was closer.

Forest Valley began the season with a 4 win over always-tough Williston, and followed that up with a nine-point win over Maine West. Adding their names to the highest finishers for Forest Valley in their third contest were Mike Connolly, 5.9 on side horse, Jeff Brown, 6.8 on horizontal bar, Bob Berglund, 6.45 on parallel bars, and Norm Olsen, 6.6 in tumbling free exercise.

HERSEY'S YOUNG Gary Morawa, who lettered at Wheeling as a sophomore, made the presence known in the meet by taking two second and two fourth for Don Von Eber's crew, just narrowly missing in the exercise event with a 6.55 average, 3 off the place of Olsen.

Berglund placed first, third and fourth and Simulka had a third and a second as did Mike Sisti and Lance Boyer. Hersey's highest individual score for the meet was Connolly's 7.1 on the trampoline. The best score for a Hersey man was Morawa's 6.55 in free exercise.

Meet Results:

TRAMPOLINE: 1. Conte, FV, 7.1; 2. Sisti, FV, 6.55; 3. Watson, FV, 6.5; 4. Morawa, H, 4.95; 5. Harris, H, 3.85; 6. Weaver, H, 3.85. SIDE HORSE: 1. Connolly, last night Tom Waltham's Cardinals put their team in an impressive 117.4 while the Knights placed up a respectable 96.35. Arlington's Tarry Haines was without a doubt the standout performer of the evening picking up a 9.0 and an 8.6 for an 8.8 average, a performance outstanding even for a college gymnast.

JIM BROUSSEAU, a first-all-around man from Arlington, scored eight points in two events, averaging 8.25 on the horizontal bar and an 8.1 on the parallel bars.

After Haines' phenomenal performance, Prospect's Jay Bennett was second with a 6.9 and Cardinal Nick Iacono was third with a 6.5.

Junior Pat Brouseau commended the side horse event with a number-three man score of 7.25. Kim Bonchen of Prospect netted up 5.85, and Arlington's Larry Larson was third with a 5.55. IN THE HIGH BAR event, the first two men who performed full during their routine, Prospect's Bob Todd, who has had bronchitis this week, lost his grip and was given a score of 0.25. Ed Gleichmann fell during his horizontal bar and recovered sufficiently for a 5.45.

Brouseau led the event, and George Christoff of Arlington was second with an average of 6.7. Norm Wold took third for the Knights with a 6.55.

Brouseau was also high man in parallel bar, and Gleichmann took second with a 6.4. Prospect's Dave March was close at hand with a 6.3 good for a third. Katie Lindsay took the title rings event for the Cardinals with a 7.8, and Mike Osmoski completed a 6.3 for Prospect.

STEVE VANDEBEEK was a surprise winner in the free exercise event, beating second place Ed of Gray Drake and Jay Bennett by half point each.

'Arlington averaged approximately 20 points per event, an average of almost seven points per event, a creditable performance.

Arington and Prospect will both compete in the Everett Invitational on Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

RIGHT—Hersey all-around man Gary Morawa makes it over the bar and prepares to swing into a handstand in the tumbling-free exercise event last night at Forest Valley.

Fallen Mike Sisti keeps his nose to the ground as he prepares to go into a handstand in the tumbling-free exercise event last night at Forest Valley.

Viator Swimmers Dunk Year's Toughest Team

Although the swimmers of St. Viator encountered their toughest competition of the season, they took it in stride and defeated East Leyden, 44-41. Leading the way were Rich Lynch, Bill McCaffrey and George Haines as they took two first places to pace the victory.

Things started off badly for the Sea Lions at the heady relay, which had apparently won easily, was disqualified. Halse got things on the right track by winning the 200 free in 2:06.1. John Drexel edged Kim Roberts of East Leyden for second place.

LYNCH KEPT ALIVE a string of Lion fins that remained onbroken until the relay by winning the 50 free in 23.7. Mark Abate grabbed second for St. Viator.

McCaffrey won by a wide margin, doing it with a 2:11.1. Jim Campana was third for the Sea Lions. The St. Viator divers did not fare as well as the swimmers, although Bill Costello gave a good performance. He was simply no match for the excellent East Leyden divers as he finished last.

McCaffrey picked up five more points for the Lions with a win in the 100 butterfly. Dan Maguire finished third, right behind the second place finisher.

Lynch and Gene O'Hare made a sweep of the 100 free by taking first and second, respectively. Bill Geiger followed this by winning the 100 back, while Ed Schuchel picked up the third place point for St. Viator.

HALAS NEEDED A strong finishing sprint to win as he touched on Roberts in 4:36.9 in the 400 freestyle. John Driscoll was a very strong third.

Each time we start talking the lineup there's a question. This time the change is out of necessity. Glenhard played well against Addison. Comparing our effort with theirs we have in play well more than we did on the coast, Ryan said.

Glenhard lost by a margin of 10 points to Addison. Tied for second with a margin of two points in a double overtime. Ron Fink will replace Devin in the lineup, while the other starters will be Gene Fickler, Dave Zing, Bob Finch and Frank Schultz according to Ron.

"THIS CHANGE will put pressure on Finch and Fickler to rebound because the other three boys will be 11-10 and under," he says. "The team area's power house. We had to get both of them to the game, the lead."

We don't make any major strategy changes until Gil Gifford is out of the line of fire or defense. "Boss" must.

Trend To Larger Homes Continues

"A study of home permit values has revealed a continuing trend toward larger homes in the Chicago metropolitan area," said Bide M. Ransom, president of Bide Savings & Loan Association. The average value of a single family home permit in the six county area has risen more during the post-war period than construction cost. Demand for larger homes has been caused principally by greater homebuyer affluence and larger families," noted Ransom.

The study was based on building permit data taken from the monthly Bell Survey of New Building published since 1932. Permit values approximate home construction costs, but exclude the builder's profit and land value. Because of the variety of building codes in effect within the metropolitan complex, average cost comparisons between individual towns are very difficult.

THE AVERAGE value of a single family home in the entire Chicago metropolitan area rose from $4,968 in 1946 to $12,469 in the first ten months of 1968, an increase of 208 per cent. During the same period the construction cost index published by the United States Department of Commerce rose from 54 to 133, an increase of only 138 per cent.

"The greatest increases have occurred in the areas outside the central city," the study's report stated. The average value of homes in the unincorporated areas rose 280 per cent, while in the incorporated areas it rose 138 per cent. The average value of homes in the unincorporated areas rose from $4,674 in Traditional beauty is the key characteristic found in the School-designed homes of Sleepy Hollow, located immediately southwest of Dundee. The attractive, all-weather-

(al) community is entered from Higgins Rd. (Rt. 72), about a mile west of Rt. 31. Visitors are quick to comment on the several eye-catching exterior styles which can be noted for each basic design. These variations of styling are drawn from authentic, traditional designs which were developed in Europe and early America. All of these differing elevations are a part of architectural line, plus popular distinction and eye-appeal with variety enough to meet any family's personal preferences.

The popular names of these School-designed homes - with prices ranging from about $10,000 plus lot - clearly suggest the variety and sources of the available elevations. TYPICAL is the "Southbridge Harbor" - an eye-catching, three-bedroom ranch home with two to two-and-a-half baths. Purchasers of this basic design may choose any of several Colonial elevations, including "Ranch Colonial" - a "California" version - a striking "Classic" exterior with columned porch - or one of the French Provincial elevations.

In each home, the basic floor plan remains the same. Among the several design features found in the "Southbridge Harbor" are an optional fireplace in the living room - an overall living area comprising kitchen, breakfast room and family room - and the selected mantling found in the family room.

There are some signs that this trend toward larger homes may be modified in the next few years," said Ransom. "Sociologists are predicting a reduced birth rate in this country. If they are correct, the demand for larger home very likely will subside in the next decade."

Here, too, can be found a second fireplace.

THE "MEADOWBRIDGE" is a popular two-story home offered in several appealing elevations. These include New England Colonial versions, a Ranch Colonial - and a distinctive "Classic" model which has a high, formal front portico with tall, clean-lined columns. Visitors seeing the model for the first time are particularly impressed with the large foyer, and the wide stairs to the second floor with their finely-worked wood balustrade. Other features include the paneled library-dormer, which may be an extra bedroom - the big walk-in closet - the optional front fireplace and bay window in the living room - and the optional service bar in the family room.

A popular one-story home at Sleepy Hollow is the "Windsor Meadows," with three bedrooms and two-and-a-half baths. The wide selection of exterior styles in this model includes several Colonial, a "Classic," a Ranch Colonial - and a formal French Provincial which was featured in a recent issue of American Home Magazine.

PERHAPS the most versatile of the larger homes to be seen at Sleepy Hollow is the "Old Skybrook" - a popular two-story design with five bedrooms. Interior options - fireplace, peninsular, finish material, etc. - are many. And the wide choice of exterior elevations includes Colonial in wide variation; "French Regency,"

Classic concepts; and special elevations such as the "Little Valley," "English Tudor" and "French Regency."

Sleepy Hollow and the model home group is open to visitors daily from 10 a.m. until dusk.

Visitors to Sleepy Hollow, located just west of Dundee on Higgins Rd. (Rt. 72), approximately a mile west of Rt. 31, find exterior lines of the homes to have unusual variety and appeal. Most designs are drawn from classic, Early American and European exterior styles. The "Skybrook" shown here is a distinctive Colonial elevation. It is one of the School-designed models open to visitors daily until dusk.

Turn Drab Closet Into Pleasant Surprise

Step into that drab closet of yours with a decorating trick or two up your sleeve. The next time you open the door, it will be to a pleasant surprise.

The closet most difficult to decorate is usually the one right in the hall or the living room area. How many times have guests actually mistaken it for the front door and opened it to find the usual family clutter of books, umbrellas, skates and leifera from a previous visit?

SOLUTION: line the walls with a pretty print fabric, wrap it with a beautiful pattern of the fabric, wood paneling or a decorative material. Secure it with heavy-duty adhesive tape.

Novel Settings For Wide Variety Of Decors

Continuing surveys at Carlin's residential community on Route 72, about two miles south of Route 72 in Schaumburg, indicate unusual interior designs featured in their new Lancaster-built homes.

Sales Director Al Bercher, speaking for Lancaster Corporation, developers of Carlin's, and its neighbor community to the east, Bensenville, said, "In view of our designers, the interior of a home is the setting for many decorative schemes. Therefore, we try to incorporate the most interesting concepts in our interiors. This creates both challenge and satisfaction for buyers of our homes."

PRICES for Carlin's homes range upward from $38,000 for a three-bedroom, two-bath split-level design. Other models include two-story and ranch homes, all available with extensive options and custom features.

Among the latter, visitors to the current Carlin's model room will note unique living rooms; unusual dividers; semi-open combined room areas; two-level room concepts; dramatic fireplace and other built-in features; unusually proportioned rooms; and similar ideas for enhanced interior design.

Bercher pointed out as especially popular "design settings" in the two-story "Staffman" is the two-story "Staffman" room, measuring 14 feet by 19 feet, in which the "visiting" room, entering the space from foyer, views the room, slightly raised and beyond a waist-high dividing device of paneled wood, is the dining room.

Overall, this arrangement of the two rooms provides a setting for highly varied and interesting decor.

Another concept of interior design, the "Staffman" in the same model, the "Staffman" and family room are fully open to each other. Again, a novel partial divider breaks the two areas—while an optional fireplace with raised bench extends across one end of the family room.

Interior plan for the new homes in "Carlin's" one of the two new residential communities now developing in Schaumburg—provide many opportunities for individual ideas in decor. Photo shows interesting use of custom living room and dining room in the "Staffman". Entrance in "Carlin's" is one floor higher, about two miles south of Route 72.

interesting interior design, frequently applauded by homebuyers visiting Carlin's, is found in the "Sheridan" in this spacious home. As usual, "conversion" features in the kitchen-family room area. Here, the kitchen and breakfast room are raised approximately two feet, to overlook the family room—21 feet long by 13 feet wide, with beamed ceiling.

A curved railing of antique wrought-iron, in modern styling style, divides the two rooms. Connecting steps are to one side, and an optional fireplace of rough stone dominates one end of the area.

THROUGHTFUL Lancaster model group, interior material—paneling, flooring, woodwork, etc.—are carefully selected to provide the right background and settings in decor.

Lancaster Park, both Carlin's and neighboring Bensenville, is including Saturdays and Sundays, from 10 a.m. until dusk.

Jim Nelson credits all his success to The Fuller Brush Man. He was the man, and his training served him well, because he has just become a million-dollar salesman for Bergen Sales Realtors, Inc. in Pleasant Heights.

Nelson, who completed an associate's degree and got a high as field manager for the northwest, worked during the 465 years with the brush company, says, "I attribute everything I've learned to sales to Fuller Brush. And it's the same type of work here. You're dealing with people, so it's just a matter of learning the technical aspects here. The transition was easy."

Nelson is a man of many talents. He enjoys sports, but he has just resumed attendance at a high school. More important, he is continuing his education in real estate. Currently busy with a real estate law course at Northwestern University, he plans to continue activity like this for several years.

And that makes progress bright for potential customers in the area.

JIM NELSON

Men and Women On the Move

NELSON, 27, was born in Evanston and has lived in the Chicago area all his life. He attended the University of Chicago, went to Joliet Junior College and became a team and-dealer before he began selling brushes.

Jim, his wife Sandra and their three children (Liam, 5; Jimmy, 4; and Danny, 2) have lived at 200 E. Marion St. in Prospect Heights for three years. Reaching a decision with Fuller Brush, he joined the rapidly growing Staff firm in October of 1967 and in the ensuing 12 months produced a million dollars worth of sales for the company.

"I'M ONE of many million dollar salesmen in the business," he points out. "But what the big reason for whatever success I've had is that I know how to close without offending people. It's all in heading people, in knowing when to turn the key and when not to, in knowing what does turn the key."

"I try to listen," he goes on. "That's the big thing a salesman should do—quit talking and listen to what the customer is trying to tell him."

"I don't do my selling in the home. I let them show the home. I point out the good points. And the bad features, too, because it's a two-way street. Then I do my selling in the car. I ask them what they liked about the home and what they didn't like. Then I do the best follow-up job I can. Too many salesmen quit before it's more to it than that."

LIKE ANYBODY else, Nelson has enjoyed the financial rewards which come from doing a good job, but there is more to it than that.

"It's nice to know you're satisfying somebody and have helped them with their needs," he declares. "Then, too, every customer is different, and this is interesting. I don't consider a real estate salesman a salesman as such. If you like

Start Small

There's nothing is the rule book for young married couples that says they must follow the Ben Franklin rule. Ben Franklin's advice to start with the basic furniture, put all their available cash into solid investments, and then gradually add to the nest egg.

In fact, most new brides are aware that their hope chests have long held little odds-men, a special figurine, a small clock, and other little items as vases, candles, even conserves.

Built-In Whirlpool

The same engineers who produced the built-in vacuum cleaning system being incorporated in an increasing number of new homes have now developed another built-in for the first time: A Whirlpool massage device which is said to be simple to operate, inexpensive in cost, and entirely safe.

The Central Vac International California-based firm which guarantees the product for two years says that all the user need do is place the stainless steel tubular ring in the bottom of the tub after it has been filled with water at the desired temperature, set the timer for the desired time, then step into the tub for a soothing session of water-massage by "million tiny air bubbles." There are no electrical meters or pumps submerged in the bath water.

The same motor used in the Central built-in vacuum system is employed in the massage device, and the equipment is said to be a low-upkeep, no-maintenance item.

At Any Given Moment

there are thousands of lovely homes for sale. But not many have brand names, like cars or washing machines. So how do you even start looking for the home that's exactly right for your family? The only sensible answer is to look for this nationally recognized brand - the seal that identifies a Realtor® - the seal that identifies a Realtor®. He will save you time, energy and headaches. There really isn't any other right way to find and buy your home.
